Toys! Dolls! Games!

How they make the pulse leap, the eyes sparkle, these creations of a mimic world!

How wonderfully they paint magic pictures of childhood's charming hours. Grayheads forget the flight of years and grow young again in the presence of such fairylike enchantments. For the nonce the wheels of time whirr reversely with the quickness of a flash. Children of whether young or old! Toyland; Children of the Human Race. All children,

What a garden spot of happy scenes for youngsters! There's the spirit of Christmas in the air. You can't hear the melody of sleigh-bells yet, save in this mimic realm; nor can you see the dazzling whileness of snow, save here. Indian Summer may reign without, but in Toyland, on the Third Floor, it's a time when Yuletide joys are expanding. This year the Toy Store is larger than ever. Many say it is the finest Toy Store in America. Thousands of Dolls of all nationalities, from the humble little rag baby so idealized in poetry to the most exquisite queen-like Doll. The Doll Show with its gorgeous black and yellow colors keeps interest at concert pitch. Down in the big 6th Avenue Window, "Babes in Toyland" hold their revel. You see there the famous Garden Wall scene that is such a feature of the Majestic Theatre production. And the Games! Bless you, everything that you can think of or whatever is in demand.
